"There are men and classes of men that stand above the common herd: the soldier, the sailor, and the shepherd not infrequently; the artist rarely; rarelier still, the clergyman; the physician almost as a rule. He is the flower (such as it is) of our civilization; and when that stage of man is done with, and only to be marvelled at in history, he will be thought to have shared as little as any in the defects of the period, and most notably exhibited the virtues of the race. Generosity he has, such as is possible to those who practise an art, never to those who drive a trade; discretion, tested by a hundred secrets; tact, tried in a thousand embarrassments; and what are more important, Heraclean cheerfulness and courage. So that he brings air and cheer into the sick room, and often enough, though not so often as he wishes, brings healing."

Foreword

One year ago the graduating class of the Ohio State University College of Medicine published the first volume of the CADUCEAN—a yearbook devoted entirely to the activities of the College and the associated School of Nursing. Despite many handicaps, Grover Swoyer, editor of the 1946 CADUCEAN produced a book which was a credit to the school it represented and worthy of perpetuation.

The Class of 1947 accepts the challenge handed us by our pioneering predecessors. We are not journalists—we do not profess to be—but if the 1947 CADUCEAN will benefit the College of Medicine in any way; and if it will inspire those who follow to make the CADUCEAN a permanent institution, then it will have served its purpose and will stand as an adequate memorial to the Class that published it.

"O, Call Back Yesterday, Bid Time Return"

"How well I remember that day in January, 1944 when our class of 85 bewildered members first assembled!

"What a varied and scared aggregation we were! Most of us were either in Army or Navy uniforms . . . there were 17 civilians 5 of whom were girls . . . Connie Connors, Faith Cooper, Clotilde Dent (later to become Clotilde Bowen), Maryjo Roth and Martha Southard. There was Tony Enriquez-Navarro from Panama . . . and Cloe was the second negro woman ever to be admitted to the Ohio State Medical School. Faith Cooper and Al Day were former school teachers and Jack Riddle was a Ph.D. in bacteriology. There were Jews, Catholics and Protestants . . . all strangers then . . . but soon to be classmates for four years of intensive study that brought us close together and finally made us colleagues in a profession that is bigger than race, creed or sect.

"Acting Dean Baker was out of town so, Dr. Brown gave us a short welcoming speech before launching into a lecture about how much air we had breathed in our young lives. But despite 'J. B.'s' admonition that nobody who studied would flunk, there was an air of apprehension hanging over our first gathering as each to himself wondered if he would be present four years later to receive his coveted 'M.D.'

"Then came Dr. Knouff's lecture on the four principles of Bichat . . . it only lasted an hour and ten minutes . . . how misleading!

"The greatest thrill of the freshman year, the unveiling of our cadavers in anatomy, was soon lost as the novelty wore off and was replaced by the drudgery of tedious dissection and the pungent odor of formalin. Even the posting of class standings became monotonous with Ray Brown always first.

"There were many things I'll never forget . . . the morning after Dr. Graves' son was born he passed out cigarettes and it was during the war when they were hard to get . . . Jack Riddle's bursted appendix soon after the first quarter started . . . our first attempts at venipuncture in Chemistry lab . . . Dr. Ruggy's lecture on diabetes . . . our quartet of Dan Bloch, Paul Hatfield, Vic Emery and George Clauer singing 'If I Had My Way' to relieve the tension as we waited in the amphitheater to file into anatomy and neurology practicals . . . our diet survey . . . Lew Ingram borrowing a dollar from each of us so he could go out to Washington to bring his bride home . . . the treks over to the Bacteriology Building where venerable 'Pappy' Starin tried to teach us about microorganisms . . . and the day in histology when Jack Wiltberger naively asked why all the cats in the neighborhood came around the house when his cat was in heat . . . our election of officers—Dad Huston was president, Jim Simmons vice-president and Martha Southard secretary.

"But it wasn't all studying and lab work . . . we took time out for a cigarette in the hall . . . or a "bull session" in the men's room on the fourth floor where sitting 'behind those swinging doors' we usually found the faculty member who had been the object of our latest tirade . . . there were fraternity rushing parties, initiation, house parties, poker games and dances . . . and the traditional freshman picnic at the Graves' country home where Bob Murnane entertained us with his unique sense of humor—and all the beer that was left over because Dr. Ruggy had undergone an appendectomy the night before.

"The ASTP men were moved into barracks at Canfield Hall . . . Normandy was invaded the morning we took our second quarter Anatomy final . . . and in the blistering heat of late August, 1944 our freshman year ended."

The Man of the Year --- 1947

The class of 1947 of The Ohio State University College of Medicine proudly presents Dr. Dwight M. Palmer as its "Man of the Year". Early in our freshman year in medical school, we recognized that he was a man with superior training, excellent teaching ability and a unique interest in the problems of each student. He has exhibited these qualities repeatedly, which justify his worthiness to receive this annual recognition and our pride in this choice.

"Here I am, about six months old, looking rachitic and hydrocephalic."

We first became associated with Dr. Palmer during our first week in medical school, when he introduced himself to the class in our first lecture in gross anatomy. Little did we realize how closely we were to become associated with him in the ensuing few years. During that first and hectic year we came to know him and he to know us, and we marveled at and admired the huge storehouse of knowledge from which he frequently drew to impart bits of wisdom to us.

In the ROTC at Carlisle Barracks, summer of 1928.

Our initiation into the intricacies of the central nervous system came at the close of the freshman year, when we studied neuroanatomy, using Dr. Palmer's "The Human Nervous System" as our textbook. Again by means of his guidance, vast knowledge and interesting presentation of the subject, we became well informed of this increasingly important field of medicine. In this course Dr. Palmer introduced us to the fields of neurology and psychiatry, of which he was to teach us more during our remaining years in school. During these latter years he did much to impress upon us the importance of psychosomatic medicine in the diagnosis and treatment of many disorders, besides imparting freely to us his knowledge of psychiatry. It is in the field of neurology and psychiatry that Dr. Palmer is especially proficient. He is a diplomate of The American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, and Chairman of the Department of Neurology and Psychiatry in the College of Medicine. This Department was formed in January 1946, and much of the organization and administrative work was his responsibility.

Dwight Miller Palmer was born to William A. and Jennie A. Palmer at Scio, Ohio on February 14, 1906. His childhood was spent in Scio and he graduated from the local high school in 1924.

Following the completion of his high school education, he enrolled as a pre-medical student at The Ohio State University where he became a member of Theta Nu Sigma social fraternity. Two years hence, the fall of 1926, he was admitted to the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University. After his freshman year, because of his intense interest and excellent record in gross anatomy, he accepted an assistantship in that subject for the school year 1927-28. The following year he was made an instructor in that department, a position he held until 1934. However his interest in anatomy was secondary, proclaiming his ambition to be a pathologist. Toward that end he began working with Dr. Scott in 1930 in the Department of Pathology on neuropathological problems. Thus it can be seen that his interest in the nervous system was evident early in his medical career. Although Dr. Scott died the following year, Dr. Palmer continued his study of neuropathology until his graduation in 1932, when he received his Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Medicine degrees. Because of his duties in the Anatomy and Pathology Departments he took only a part-time schedule in medical school, thereby delaying his graduation until the year 1932.

For internship, Dr. Palmer chose White Cross Hospital in Columbus. However, he soon realized that he was more interested in teaching and in neuropathology than in the actual practice of medicine, and he resigned. He returned to Ohio State and resumed his teaching of anatomy and his work in neuropathology. Therefore in 1933 he received his Master of Science degree in pathology, the subject for his dissertation being "Intrathoracic Sympatheticoblastomatas."

The year 1934 is a memorable one. Besides being chosen as one of the charter faculty members of Alpha Omega Alpha on this campus, and being appointed an Assistant Professor of anatomy, he married Miss Virginia Grey of Cadiz, Ohio, culminating a romance which began in a summer school session here at the University. The Palmer family has been blessed with three children, Tommy, Patty, and Bobby.

Since 1934 Dr. Palmer has held the following positions in the College of Medicine: Instructor of Medicine, Associate Professor in Medicine, Associate Professor of Anatomy, Professor of Anatomy, Professor of Neurology and Psychiatry. At present he holds the rank of Professor in the Department of Anatomy, and of Professor and Chairman of the Department of Neurology and Psychiatry.

To us Dr. Palmer has been and will continue to be a guiding light throughout our medical careers. We admire him for his vast learning, expert teaching, and as a friend. We salute him as our "Man of the Year."

"Serendipity"

The Zest of Adventurous Living!

by

CHARLES A. DOAN, M.D., Dean

Once upon a time three Princes of Serendip,—the ancient name for the island of Ceylon,—journeyed together through their homeland. By accident or sagacity these congenial and observant companions made one interesting and amazing discovery after another, quite without special effort or design. Horace Walpole upon reading this delightful fairy tale, wrote to his friend, Horace Mann, in 1754 proposing the addition to our vocabulary of a new word, "serendipity." Found only in unabridged dictionaries today, this expression, nevertheless, has come to mean to the initiated the fortuitous discovery of unforeseen evidence in support of one's own evolving ideas, or the recognition of unanticipated new relationships, or concepts, or objectives with surprise and pleasure.

Undoubtedly the most unique instance of 'accidental discovery' within the mind of man was the finding of the Western Hemisphere. Columbus, sailing west from Spain, firm in the faith that he would find a shorter route to the East Indies, quite unexpectedly encountered a whole new continent. Though he obviously did not know at the time where he was going, nor where he was when he arrived, nor where he had been after his return, he did realize that he had had a remarkable experience, and through the recording and sharing of his experiences with others, he provided the basic foundations upon which many subsequent generations have builded,—geographically, economically, socially.

The more modern scientific version of the Serendip philosophy is Pasteur's: Dans les champs de l'observation, le hasard ne favorise que les esprits preparés." —chance favors the prepared mind. And before Pasteur, Joseph Henry, an American pioneer physicist, had observed that "the seeds of great discoveries are constantly floating about us, but they only take root in minds well prepared to receive them." Many a man floated in water before Archimedes noted one day, by chance, the buoyancy of his body in his bath, and the concept of specific gravity emerged; apples fell from trees long before Isaac Newton conceived the universal law of gravitational force while resting on the grass in an orchard; and steam has continued to escape from boiling kettles ever since the discovery of fire, but the possibility of the steam engine was supposedly born in the mind of James Watt from this particular observation.

In medicine, whether it be the successful consummation of a difficult diagnosis, or a new therapeutic discovery,—the so-called "lucky hunch" which may alleviate human suffering or save human lives, —there is involved both the phenomenon to be observed, and the appreciative, intelligent observer. Alexander Flemming was not in search of an antibiotic in 1929, when he "observed" a contaminated culture plate; nor was Pasteur aware of the relationship between attenuated virulence and induced immunity, when he "accidentally" used an old forgotten laboratory culture in the inoculation of some fowls. Charles Richet, the French Nobel laureate, testifies that it was in spite of his better judgment that he "discovered" induced sensitization—allergy, anaphylaxis—while learning the toxic dose of an extract of the tenacles of a sea anemone.

Starting at any time, anywhere in the life span, the human mind with an alerted, insatiable curiosity is ready for "serendipity," the pleasant surprise of a new and stimulating experience, unpredictable but always fascinatingly intriguing. At this particular moment in world history the challenge to adventurous living is well-nigh irresistible, with new knowledge, revealing the fundamental secrets of the Universe, unfolding at an unprecedented, dizzily accelerating tempo.

The medical scientist, the physician, stands at the crossroads of today's World, with congenial companions beckoning him on every hand to join in a journey of vicarious, as well as personal discovery, satisfying to the intellect and appealing in the best sense to the highest human emotions. Though one's life apparently be cast in ordinary and potentially unexciting channels, the unexpected is frequently happening. Chance throws unanticipated opportunities repeatedly in each individual's pathway, and in the affairs of every one of us there is "a tide, which taken at the flood," leads on to abundant success. Avoid fixed ideas. "To persons, who live according to pattern, adventures in ideas are impossible. Actually, we dwell in a world which is not settled, not stationary, not finally immobilized. It presents all manner of possibilities of novel and unprecedented combinations and readjustments. Consequently, wisdom counsels keeping our minds open and recipient, hospitable to new views and fresh advances. We err if we dismiss the extraordinary aspects of experience as unworthy of attention; they may be the little beginnings of trails leading to unexplored heights of human progress—. Unless we are willing to weigh novel ideas and methods on their merits, and to judge them justly, we may not be participants in momentous decisions, but instead may be worried and unhappy bystanders." (Cannon).

"Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore, get wisdom: but with all thy getting get understanding." The sagacious physician will utilize the chances of "serendipity," as he journeys with pleasant and stimulating companions through the 'homeland' of his medical career.

Humanity eagerly welcomes the new physicians of the class of '47, and your faculty tutors salute you, as comrades deemed worthy of the high calling of the Healing Art for which you have so faithfully prepared.

During 1946, Alpha Kappa Kappa has strived to provide lectures, social entertainment, competition with social and other professional fraternities, alumni functions, and scholastic aids for its members.

Several of the local alumni have presented informal monthly discussions on practical medical economics; and through them, we have learned some important factors concerning the proper management of a practice.

There have been bi-monthly get-togethers at the house, plus the annual formal and the alumni banquet.

Through one of the alumni's generosity, the fraternity medical library has increased by 200 volumes. This addition has been especially helpful to the upper classmen, since most of the books pertain to clinical medicine.

Alpha Kappa Kappa won the Inter-Fraternity Sing this year for the second consecutive time. AKK also won the league trophy for intramural basketball in 1946.

President Simmons took office on January 31, 1946. The rushing program was under the direction of Vice President Hook. Of the September 1945 Freshman class, nineteen were initiated into the fraternity on January 6, 1946. Several parties were held for the October 1946 class, terminating with a party at which Dr. Robert Keating addressed the fraternity. Twenty-one men were pledged.

On February 9, at the Beechwold, the winter formal was held with Ned Mates' Orchestra. Numerous parties were held throughout the year. With the fall quarter, open house was held following each home game.

The Senior banquet was held at the house on March 1, 1946. Dr. Wayne Brehm was toastmaster, and presented Robert McClave the President's key, and Francis Kubbs the Athletic award.

A banquet was held at the house for the Alumni who returned for the Collegiate Assembly on March 27.

The library of the house was greatly enlarged through the help of the Alumni and Dr. Starin.

Trophies were won in bowling and football this past year.

The year 1946 was in all a successful one at Phi Chi. Social activities for the past year included in addition to the traditional Senior Banquet and Spring Formal several house dances, hay rides, and buffet suppers. House parties were held after every home game during the fall quarter and on homecoming the fraternity entertained the old grads and members of other chapters at a buffet supper and dance held at the chapter house.

Twenty members of the present freshman class were pledged to the fraternity at the beginning of the fall quarter.

In athletics the Phi Chi basketball, baseball, and football teams had successful, though not championship seasons.

During the past year the regular business meetings of the fraternity have been followed by informal talks by members of the medical faculty, including Dr. Ruggy, Dr. Doan, Dr. Barnes and Dr. Keating.

Chi Chapter of Phi Delta Epsilon began the school year with ten new pledges—a more studious and conscientious group of Freshman has not been seen at Phi Delta Epsilon for many years. The Sophomores seem to have survived the "Battle of the Freshmen Year" successfully and have permitted their weary minds and bodies to participate in athletics and social events of Phi Delta Epsilon. The Juniors when not studying delight in an uproarious house shattering bridge game for relaxation—or perhaps an evening of Wagner or Mozart in the music room. Most of the seniors are married but visit the house often, especially for the C.P.C.'s on Friday evenings with a member of the faculty as guest. Highlighting the year's social calendar was the annual winter formal which was held on Washington's Birthday on February 22 at the Neil House.

The activities of Sigma chapter consist of a short business meeting each month and social meetings throughout the school year with a member or an associate member as hostess. Winter quarter ten new members were pledged at the home of Mrs. Rollo C. Baker, and spring quarter Mrs. Clair Underwood entertained the group at a picnic supper.

Fall quarter opened with a picnic meeting at University Golf Course in honor of the freshman girls. The group were guests of Mrs. Margaret Colburn, Mrs. Etta Mae Sherman, and Mrs. Mary Frame.

In November total active membership was brought to fifteen by the initiation of the largest group (10) in the history of the local chapter.

The annual celebration of Founder's Day was held in December at the home of Miss Mary Jo Roth with more than fifty guests and members present. Following a buffet dinner, the speaker of the evening, Dr. Robert M. Zollinger, described some of his interesting war-time experiences.

Most outstanding among the limited projects of the group is the maintenance of a fully equipped obstetrical bag presented by the alumnae and used by the girls on practical obstetrical service.

"O God! Put Back Thy Universe and Give Me Yesterday"

"We started our sophomore year in October, 1944, fewer in number, but with more self assurance, for now there were 84 freshmen whom we could intimidate with gruesome stories about midterms, practicals, sausage slides and Dean's letters.

"The work that year was more interesting and our goal seemed nearer. In Dr. Wiseman's medicine course we first discussed patients. And in materia medica quiz sections under Drs. Ruggy, Smith and Rosenfeld we signed "M.D." after our names on practice prescriptions. Later in the year, in physical diagnosis we put on our white coats and went to the T. B. Sanatorium, the State Hospital and St. Francis Hospital to practice taking histories and doing physicals. Most of us were first called 'Doctor' by some unsuspecting patient that year.

"But there was still a lot of midnight oil burned; we had all-day laboratories in Physiology, Pharmacology and Clinical Pathology; we had practicals in pathology and unknowns in bacteriology; we had midterms in everything.

"That Fall we watched the undefeated Buckeyes, led by Les Horvath, romp to a Big 9 football championship. With Warren Koontz and Chuck Bates leading the Republicans, and Dick Welsh and Stan Brody heading the Democrats we had many heated discussions after class about the Roosevelt-Dewey campaign.

"In December Dr. Doan, formerly chairman of the Department of Medicine, was made Dean, and soon thereafter Dr. Ruggy became Junior Dean and Dr. Baker Secretary. Almost immediately Dr. Doan met with the student body, inaugurating a new faculty-student relationship. As a result, our class elected a coordinating committee composed of Dan Bloch, R. W. Gifford, Jack Lindsey, Faith Cooper, Jim Simmons and Vic Emery. We adopted Bob Young's plan to sign up for Junior clinic groups ahead of time. And all four classes were organized to urge legislation on an appropriation for a new Medical Center at Ohio State. Paul Hatfield was elected president of our class, Jack Lindsey, vice-president and Hash Shapiro secretary.

"That was the year of Dr. Davidson's nugget-filled lectures in pathology . . . and I remember how 'Pappy' Starin used to catch Zintsmaster and Tucker sleeping in class and berated Ed Bonar for not taking notes . . . the posting of Dr. Smith's All-American team after every midterm . . . and the day in clinical path lab Fred Henry spiked a specimen of Warren Hoffman's blood with some Kahn positive serum and we watched him operate at the thalamic level as he read the test . . . Bill 'Muscles' Wiltberger fought in the Golden Gloves Tournament . . . Rusty Wagers got drunk on morphine in Pharmacology lab . . . there were 'pink teas' in pathology . . . and on Saturdays we began going to CPC.

"One April afternoon as we were studying specimens in the pathology museum, President Roosevelt died in Georgia; a month later as Jim Harmon and I worked on local anesthetics in pharmacology lab the unconditional surrender of Germany was announced. Our sophomore year ended shortly thereafter—in June 1945."

"Still o'er these scenes my mem'ry wakes,
And fondly broods with miser care;

ROBERT BURNS

"Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight - - -"

"Most of us wore white coats or intern jackets that first morning of our Junior year as we came to class weighted down with stethescopes, spygmomanometers and hemocytometers. It was in the summer of 1945 when we took up our duties on the clinical services.

"Those who started on either University medicine or surgery had their illusions about that 'easy Junior year' quickly shattered. I still remember Bert Peppercorn and Irwin Krakoff that first afternoon in cross sectional anatomy class—they each had six or seven cases requiring workups. Sooner or later, however, we all had the same experience.

"Our class now met in its entirety only a couple of hours each day for lectures. I can remember some of them yet: Dr. Barnes in obstetrics—it was his first year at Ohio State; Drs. Nelson and Mahanna on cardiology; Drs. Wiseman and Hatfield on internal medicine; Dr. Curtis on chest surgery and the thyroid gland and Dr. Dodd on general surgery.

"In our clinical work we were divided into six groups. I still remember long hours of detailed history taking and physicial examinations . . . ward rounds and clinics . . . the 2B lab with its myriad blood counts, repeat blood counts, urinalyses, divided urines and fantastic tests dreamed up by the intern or resident . . . the usual morning scurry to draw our 'bucket of blood' and get it to the lab by 10:00 . . . a host of cross-matches, intravenouses, transfusions and redressings—'scut work' we used to call it . . . the call that inevitably came in the middle of the night when we were first up . . . holding retractors in surgery . . . or an anxious attempt at a lumbar puncture . . . the St. Francis emergency room where we got our first experience in suturing and Al Day even got his picture in the paper sewing up an accident victim . . . prenatal at University Hospital and pediatrics at Children's Hospital.

"Some of the fellows took externships . . . . Bill Cope, Dick Welsh and Bob Young in pathology . . . George Bell in X-ray . . . Harry Cope and George Clauer out at St. Anthony's . . . the two Warrens, Hoffman and Kleinmaier were at St. Francis . . . Will Taylor and Mike Henry at White Cross . . . Vic Emery, Bob Murnane and Paul Hatfield at Grant.

"Dr. von Haam returned from the Army and gave us some excellent discussions as he worked bare-handed at the autopsy table . . . 'Hose-nose' Elliott hung an unflattering epithet on Jack Wiltberger who promptly hung a hay-maker on 'Hose-nose's' nose . . . I got excited one day while presenting a patient to Dr. Nelson in medicine clinic and 'smelt a mass' . . . Dave Mack is still looking for the week-end he lost celebrating VJ day . . . during the Fall quarter the first class on the de-accelerated program started . . . Bob Weimer, one of Dr. Palmer's converts began work on his book entitled, 'The Psychosomatic Background of the Ingrown Toenail' . . . Bill Smith and his wife gave a party for our group at the Deshler . . . Howard Sirak began missing classes to read periodicals so he could keep up with Dr. DeLor in quoting from the literature . . . our class submitted a bill of complaints and suggestions to the Dean . . . Ray Brown, R. W. Gifford and Jack Lindsey climaxed a three year battle for class scholastic honors by being initiated to AOA . . . the first edition of the Caducean was presented by the class of 1946 . . . and in March, 1946 on our last day as Juniors, Dr. Ruggy revealed to us a sketch of the proposed new Medical Center."

> THOMAS FULLER

It was with deep regret that we learned of the resignation of Dr. Verne Dodd as Chairman of the Department of Surgery in which capacity he had served capably and faithfully for 25 years.

Since his appointment to the faculty as assistant professor of surgery when the present Ohio State University College of Medicine was founded in 1914 he has given unstintingly of his interest, time and talents to the growth and development of this institution.

Dr. Dodd has worked hard and long in the shaping of plans for the new medical center. Then on the threshold of a new era, representing a life's work and a heart's dream, he modestly asked that he be relieved of his duties so that younger and newer ideas might be instilled into the organization which his wisdom, fortitude and experience had built.

Dr. Dodd

Our remorse at seeing Dr. Dodd relinquish his post as Chairman of the Department of Surgery was somewhat mitigated by the announcement that he would retain an active Professorship in that Department, for he has always taken great pride in and derived much pleasure from his teaching duties. Having the true spirit of the educator, Dr. Dodd is constantly aware of his responsibility to the student and is always willing to take time to share his wide experience and vast knowledge with the student. It is this constant association with younger men which so ably defends Dr. Dodd's tremendous vitality and enthusiasm against the onslaught of the years. The succession of students and house officers who have learned to love and respect Dr. Dodd and who are now better benefactors of mankind because of their training under him are a living tribute to his teaching genius.

But Dr. Dodd is more than a skilled surgeon and a patient teacher. He has the foresight and calm judgment of the administrator; the eager and inquiring mind of the scholar; the charity and magnanimity of the altruist; the discerning logic of the scientist; but above all he has what Osler calls "that which can alone give permanence to powers—the Grace of Humility."

UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Case No. 469892

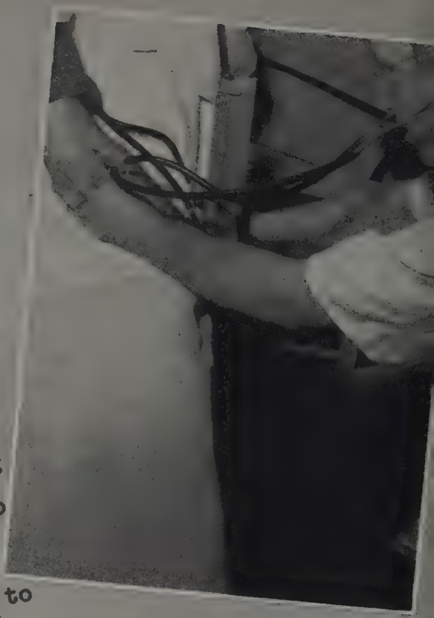
cc P.M.S., a 25 year old white male senior medical student entered the hospital on March 10, 1947 in a delirious state, muttering unintelligibly something about, "They're against me - they want to flunk me out - they're all against me."



hopi History of the present illness as obtained from the distraught parents reveals the patient first noted symptoms four years ago when he entered medical school. Nausea, vomiting and diarrhea appeared early in the patient's freshman year; there were acute exacerbations during mid-terms. Insomnia, anorexia and enuresis were next noted. The patient often complained of a vertical headache, and during his pathology courses in his sophomore year he became subject to many fleeting and varied pains which he attributed to everything from an obscure carcinoma to tsutsugamushi fever. During his physical diagnosis course he blew out three sphygmomanometers trying to take his own blood pressure. It was shortly thereafter that he first noted hemoptysis, chest pain and night sweats which the patient thought were due to a disease called omunono. Worry over his condition led to frequent alcoholic bouts which in turn caused him to suffer from periodic but violent increases in his rhubarb titer as manifested by restlessness, priapism and oneirogmus. These episodes were invariably followed by dysuria, polyuria, urgency, hematuria and hypoproteinemia. Within a few months certain central nervous system symptoms appeared, including tremor, inability to get around after dark and mental confusion. This, the patient told his parents was due to the "creeping crud" which is a rare disease contracted by drinking bock beer on an empty stomach. Later that year when tenesmus, melena and borborygmus developed, he blamed it on the "preecus", an occupational disease peculiar to medical students and caused by their frequent association with the purple shaft. He therefore applied for Workmen's Compensation which was denied on the grounds that the $75,000,000 state surplus would be endangered if claims were granted to medical students, whereupon he developed frank cardiac failure and had to be digitalized.

"More and more of the fellows accepted externships. Jim Harmon, John Tytus, Dick Miller, Ray Beitzel, Dave Mack, Harry Cope, Will Taylor, Bill Merryman and Warren Koontz went to White Cross; Tony Enriquez-Navarro, Jim Simmons, Bob Ralston, Bob Thomas, Bill Retterbush, Bill Lord and George Clauer were at St. Francis; Marion Detrick, Jack Lindsey, Chuck Bovard, Oscar Klein, Harold Segall and Glick Busby were at Mt. Carmel; Danny Bloch, Joe Klausner, Donn Tippett and Tim Caris were out at the T. B. San.; Zeke Katz was at Grant Hospital and Vernon Cotterman delivered babies at St. Ann's while Bob Murnane worked both places. Faith Cooper was kept busy riding her bicycle back and forth from the State Hospital. Bill Wiltberger and Don Coolahan and later Frank Nemcik and Al Day took the newly established externship at the city jail; Bob Young was at the state pen. At University Hospital were Loren Senn and Chuck Meckstroth on anesthesia, George Bell on X-ray and Dave Wright on Research Surgery. Bill Cope was on Ob. and Gyn. as well as extern at the Feeble Minded Institute. Joe Craig, Ted Wilson and I were down at Children's Hospital.

"Outside of one or two lectures a day we spent our time in the out-patient departments at University and Children's Hospitals.

"Early in the year, between lectures on tropical medicine our class elected officers for the last time. Jim Simmons was president; 'Hash' Shapiro, vice president and Dave Wright, secretary-treasurer. R. W. Gifford was elected editor and Paul Hatfield business manager of the CADUCEAN. About that same time we were applying for our internships. Don Coolahan took off for New Haven to participate in the meet that brought the national AAU swimming title to Ohio State. And Ed Siegler had trouble explaining to Dr. Davis how he got on the wrong road and ended up at the Kentucky Derby.

"We had our first summer vacation that year for the accelerated program was discontinued. Some of the fellows worked off their 8 weeks of practical obstetrics during that time. It was in August, I believe, when Senn, Segall and Detrick arrived at a home in time to deliver the last of triplets. And Charlie McReynolds paced up and down the corridor in 4A the hot summer night his twins were born.

"In the Fall eight more of our class were initiated into AOA: Paul Ohliger, Loren Senn, Larry Tourkow, Bob Thomas, Bob Ralston, Glick Busby, Faith Cooper and Connie Connors.

"Lloyd Barnes conducted the election that made Dr. Palmer 'Man of the Year' . . . Joe Klausner began signing his own name to his term papers . . . Dr. Barnes graciously let some of us take prenatal clinic again . . . Dr. Stedem removed a 'we just got it in time' appendix from Joe Craig the night before he was to go on practical Ob. . . . Donn Tippett got the mumps and spent a week on Isolation . . . I smashed in the side of my new Ford . . . Dr. Wiseman was made Chief of Staff at St. Francis . . . Charlie Meckstroth was never seen without his camera and then never in Medical Clinic . . . May Zaugg who had joined our ranks late in our Junior year graduated a quarter early . . . Dr. Dodd whom we had grown to love and revere resigned as Chairman of the Department of Surgery and was replaced by the capable and energetic surgeon from Boston, Dr. Zollinger.

"That last quarter ended in March of 1947 in such a flurry of excitement over graduation and our senior banquet that it was hard to realize we were at last M.D.'s. And so ended our days in Medical School—'Days so sad, so strange—days that are no more'."

Alpha Omega Alpha is a national honorary medical society composed of students in the upper one-sixth of the Senior class and of various outstanding alumni and faculty members. The Gamma chapter was established at Ohio State in 1933.

This year the pre-war custom of bringing a distinguished lecturer to the Ohio State campus was renewed by the local chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha. On November 14, 1946 Sir Lionel Whitby, Regius Professor of Physic at Cambridge and Pathologist at Middlesex Hospital spoke in Campbell Hall on "Atomic Energy and Medicine."

Prior to the lecture an initiation banquet was held at the Faculty Club. Dean Doan, AOA faculty adviser, was toastmaster and Sir Lionel Whitby was guest of honor. Dr. Curtis officially initiated the following new members: Paul Ohliger, Robert Thomas, Loren Senn, Lawrence Tourkow, Robert Ralston, Constance Connors, Faith Cooper and Jonathan Busby.

At another banquet on the evening of February 26, 1947 three members of the Junior class were initiated. They were: William Haynes, Thomas Stevenson and Ray Mellinger. Dr. Allan C. Barnes of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology was the speaker.

The Man Behind the Camera

Charles V. Meckstroth

"Now I'll count to two and snap it on three, so don't blink! Ready! One - two -"

CHARLES V. MECKSTROTH

In spite of broken appointments, retakes and film shortages; in spite of cold meals following unavoidable detainments and sleep lost while working late at night in his dark room; in spite of all such tribulations that beset the life of a yearbook photographer, Charlie Meckstroth's blood pressure never rose above its all time high of 105, his congenial smile and dry wit never waned and a barium meal at CADUCEAN expense showed no evidence of an ulcer niche.

But Charlie asked no recompense for his photographic versatility—and only because he gave so generously of his time and talent were we able to produce a book filled with scores of pictures which in years to come will carry us happily back to our medical school days.

THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

I swear by Apollo, the physician, and Aesculapius, and Health and All-heal, and by all else which I hold to be sacred and inviolate, that, according to my ability and judgment, I will keep this oath and stipulation: to reckon him who taught me this art equally dear to me as my parents, to share my substance with him and relieve his necessities if required; to regard his offspring as on the same footing with my own brothers, and to teach them this art if they should wish to learn it, without fee or stipulation, and that by precept, lecture and every other mode of instruction, I will impart a knowledge of the art to my own sons and to those of my teachers, and to disciples bound by a stipulation and oath, according to the law of medicine, but to none others.

I will follow that method of treatment which, according to my ability and judgment, I consider for the benefit of my patients and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to anyone if asked, nor suggest any such counsel, furthermore, I will not give to a woman an instrument to produce abortion.

With Purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. I will not cut a person who is suffering with a stone, but will leave this to be done by practitioners of this work. Into whatever houses I enter I will go into them for the benefit of the sick and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption; and further from the seduction of females, or males, bond or free.

Whatever, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I may see or hear in the lives of men which ought not be spoken abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret.

While I continue to keep this oath unviolated, may it be granted me to enjoy life and the practice of the art, respected by all men at all times; but should I trespass and violate this oath, may the reverse be my lot.

The Out-Patient Department

Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilded goes?
In vain we build the world, unless
The builder also grows.

MAIN ENTRANCE LOBBY · UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL · OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY · COLUMBUS, OHIO.
SKIDMORE, OWINGS & MERRILL ARCHTS.

The main entrance of the new medical center, depicted in the above sketch, will be composed of glass doors and will face South, opposite Kinsman Hall.

The nebulous dreams of a year ago are fast approaching reality. Whereas last year at this time, we had only a vague outline of the finished product, on Jan. 1, 1947 the final detailed drawings of our new Ohio State University Medical Center were delivered, as scheduled, into the hands of the Steering Committee for approval.

This represents the culmination of over two years of intensive effort on the part of the faculty and student body to bring to the people of central Ohio the research, training, and hospital facilities which they have so long needed. It began with the appointment of Dr. Rollo C. Baker as acting Dean of the College of Medicine. He appointed a Building Committee and an Alumni Public Relations Committee, and meeting together, they determined a minimal need of a six hundred bed teaching hospital with appropriate allied facilities. This was reported in July, 1944. Then Dr. Charles A. Doan was appointed Dean of the College in December, 1944 and pressing forward worked with far-sighted members of the Ohio Legislature to present this plan to the Finance Committee of the House of Representatives. Medical students contacted legislators in their home counties who were quick to recognize the value of this proposal. Consequently, an appropriation of $5,000,000 was passed by the 96th assembly to construct not only a 600 bed hospital including out-patient facilities, but also a new $800,000 Dental Clinic. An additional $475,000 was also appropriated for a new 200 bed Neuropsychiatric Receiving Unit for the Columbus State Hospital under the State Dept. of Public Welfare to be an integral part of the Medical Center. Thus, with money available and the plans completed, waiting only final approval before contractors' bids are accepted, optimists predict that ground will be broken by July 1.

The main edifice will be the University Hospital located just northwest of the present hospital; extending north of this will be a four story wing housing the new Out-Patient Department; extending east from the Out-Patient Department will be the new College of Dentistry and Clinic. (See illustrations on frontispiece, page 105 and page 109)

The hospital is to be a thirteen story building combining the beauty and simplicity of modern architecture with efficiency and convenience in the care of patients. The south wall has been scientifically designed with broad eaves between each floor shading the huge windows which comprise the entire wall of the patients' rooms and which give an overall massive solarium effect. This construction admits the direct rays of the sun during the winter day, yet excludes them during the mid-day heat of the summer months.

On the ground floor will be the emergency rooms, a medical students' lounge and locker room and the service departments including the kitchen. One enters the main floor through the entrance depicted on page 106 into the main lobby. On this floor are also Admitting and Administration. Classrooms, radiology, physical medicine and the central clinical laboratories will be located on the second and third floors.

The fourth and fifth floors, conspicuous by their lack of windows, will house twelve operating rooms, completely air-conditioned, and artificially lighted. Along the north side of these at the fifth story level runs an observation balcony. The patients' rooms are on the next seven floors with approximately 80 beds per floor divided into three nursing units with each floor containing a student lab. On the sixth floor are the delivery rooms (also air-conditioned), the obstetrical beds and the nursery. The seventh will house the gynecological service plus some female surgical beds while the eighth and ninth floors are assigned to surgery. The department of Medicine will use the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth levels. On the top floor will be a beautifully appointed cafeteria and dining room.

The spacious Out-Patient Department will eliminate over-crowding and give quiet and privacy in examining patients by providing individual offices for each student working there.

The five story Dental Building will approximately double the facilities for the College of Dentistry. Here too, individual booths equipped for all but the most difficult procedures will be provided for each junior and senior student.

It is contemplated that the A wing of the present University Hospital will be used by a greatly expanded University Health service including a 90 bed infirmary in addition to Out-Patient facilities. The remainder of the hospital will be employed by the Pathological and Pharmacological Chemistry Departments as well as providing living quarters for the house staff of the new hospital.

The Medical Center will offer special medical care to any citizens of Ohio needing such service regardless of race, creed, color or economic status. As has the present University Hospital and Medical School, it will provide medical care for indigent patients and training for undergraduates and post-graduate physicians. Every bed will be a teaching bed! In addition, the Medical Center will provide a consultation service whereby physicians from any part of the state may send selected patients for diagnosis and treatment or recommendations for treatment. Thus, it will serve as a repository for expensive and relatively infrequently used diagnostic and therapeutic equipment. Each department will be directed by a full time staff physician; and as before, prominent doctors from Columbus and vicinity will teach on a part time basis.

This is the center for which plans are drawn and money appropriated. But it is only the basic unit of an extensive plan which allows for expansion into a Medical Center second to none in possibilities in the country. As has been mentioned, funds have already been appropriated for the simultaneous erection of a 200 bed Neuropsychiatric Receiving Hospital in addition to the basic plan. This is the first in a series of wings to be built in connection with the University Hospital proper. It is to be expected that eventually interested groups or government departments will see fit to erect other units including: a children's hospital, a private general hospital, and a state tuberculosis hospital; it is hoped that the latter may become a reality relatively soon as a bill has just been recently introduced into the present assembly for the construction of a 300 bed tuberculosis unit. To a considerable extent these wings would avoid the duplication of expensive facilities by using those of the central hospital.

The sketch of the new medical center which appears on the frontispiece was made exclusively for the CADUCEAN by Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, Architects from an airplane view taken by Charlie Meckstroth, CADUCEAN photographer.

The eventual dream is to centralize all of the biological sciences (pharmacy, botany and zoology, bacteriology, and veterinary medicine) in the 120 acres of land potentially available in this medical center area. With the physical expansion of the University necessitated by a continued swollen student enrollment this dream must be realized in the immediate future if Ohio is to maintain the basis for superb physical and mental vigor for its sons and daughters so vital to the future welfare of mankind.

PROPOSED
OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER

"The present is an indivisible point which cuts in two the length of an infinite line."

Diderot

And Now ---

"It's been 25 years since that day in March 1947 when we were graduated and left our youthful, carefree days behind us. Yes, a quarter of a century has passed and ages have doubled. The years have brought fame to some, fortune to others, and social security to a few:

"Dr. Al Day, now retired, is still active as medical adviser to the Townsend organization. Rumor has it that he is to be succeeded by Dr. Weimer or Dr. Huston. Faith Cooper has declined the position as she plans to continue as team physician for the Chicago Bears.

"Heartening news comes from Don Coolahan's missionary hospital in Tanganyika. He is contributing the entire proceeds of his best seller, 'Salve for the Zulus, a Record of My Exploits,' to the International Milk Fund.

"Dub Gifford and accomplices have startled the medical world with the new cut rates of their 'You Should Live So Long' Clinic: three dollars for a complete work-up and a thyroidectomy; fifty cents refunded when the skin clips are returned.

"Genial Jack Wiltberger is now in his twelfth year as 'Your Friendly Physician of the Air,' the proletariat's Dr. Crane.

"Will Taylor has just started his twenty-sixth Dr. Killkare movie entitled 'Dr. Killkare's Coronary'. Studio gossip has it that this opus will terminate the series.

"A text of really practical nuggets for medical students has been compiled by Bob Young. Its title is 'Steady, Fella'.

"One of our unfortunate confreres, Dr. Segall, has been dogged by insomnia for the past few years. As a last resort, he has decided to return to his alma mater to audit some lectures.

"George Bell, Dean of the College of Medicine of Wooster University, told the student body in a commencement address that they had 'constantly to keep pooshing'.

"Dr. Nemcik has been credited with the invention of a sign of interest to doctors. It not only proclaims the practitioner's name in five colors, but also gives an automatic estimate of the height, weight, general appearance, gait, and loose change of prospective patients by means of a concealed electric eye with x-ray attachment.

"The latest book by Lenny Zintsmaster, nutrition expert, is 'All Obesity Is Alimentary'. Dr. Zintsmaster evidently prefers to remain a powerful but anonymous figure in the fat field as he consistently refuses to make any public appearances.

"Howard Sirak, known to his staff as 'The Big S', has returned to his spastic clinic after a leave of absence.

"Drs. Martha Southard and Connie Connors have made a radical change in their urology practice. Popular demand has prevailed upon them finally to accept male patients.

And Now ---

"The leading authority in the country on narcolepsy is Dr. Bloch. He claims it takes years of effort to develop this disease.

"George Clauer ran into trouble during a recent pneumonectomy when a fuse blew in his office.

"Dick Welsh is nursing an unilateral periocular hematoma. Evidently one of his patients did not like the name 'Jack'.

"Howard Tucker is recovering from body bruises sustained when he was accidentally stepped on the other day.

"Dr. Tourkow has been chosen the nation's number one menace to pedestrians. Just before his selection Dr. Tourkow claimed his one hundred and thirty-second victim in a corridor of one of our local hospitals. He maintains that the accident was unavoidable as the child stood directly in his path.

"Ophthalmologist H. Shapiro has perfected a new eye for women. Of course, it is still in the experimental stage and must be tested on a vast amount of clinical material.

" 'A Horn Player's Syndrome' is described in the current issue of 'Etude' by Dr. Senn. The presenting symptoms are chipmunk cheeks, red lips, and disgruntled neighbors. As yet, no satisfactory treatment has been found, and the usual termination is eviction.

"Oscar Klein, temporarily deserting medicine, is playing the title role in the Broadway revival of 'Harvey'.

"Dr. Tim Caris is the author of that hit song, 'The Last Time I Saw Caris'.

"Warren Hoffman fractured his mandible the other day while making a diagnosis of amaurotic familial idiocy.

"A. Enriquez-Navarro, M.D. has published a paper on 'The Use of the Thumb-Screw in the Practice of Pediatrics'.

"The new specialty of endocardoscopy is being developed, though not too rapidly, by Jim Harmon.

"During the past 25 years, Dr. Jackson Riddle has become the world's outstanding authority on the sex life of Klebsiella pneumoniae. He has recently culminated his research with the establishment of the oestrus cycle for this species.

"Drs. Beitzel, Siegler, and Bovard are outstanding trichologists. Ray and Ed have developed an ideal trichogen. As proof, they have three shaggy billiard balls on display. Charley admitted at the last state medical convention that there was no way to arrest trichopoliosis.

"In a related field Paul Hatfield has established himself as a first-rank cranial dermatologist.

"Dr. S. Brody, now Angus McBrody, has emigrated to Scotland where the environment is more to his liking.

"Speaking of the Scotch brings Ed Bonar to mind. He is the author of that monumental monograph, 'Spiritus Frumenti'.

"Donn Tippett and Chuck McReynolds are also strong advocates of ethanol therapy.

"Rusty Wagers is hopping mad since the 'Archives of Surgery' refused his extensive report on bovine mastitis. 'They're m'own cattle, too,' said Rusty.

"Dr. Pancho Wiltberger performed his forty-third bilateral nephrectomy last week. Bill is one of the more radical surgeons operating south of the border.

"During a recent operation by Dr. Wright, the famous thoracic surgeon, his first assistant sneezed and got his right thumb sewed into the incision. To quote Dr. Wright: 'Speed is of the essence'.

"Dr. W. Cope has been an active playwright ever since the startling success of the senior class play which he co-authored in 1947. That's a joke, son.

"Dr. Tytus, the neuro-surgeon, chews only Corona-Coronas now that he has become a diplomat of the board.

And Now ---

"Dr. Koontz has just finished leafing through all those books he acquired while going to medical school.

"Cecil B. Meckstroth has produced another technicolor extravaganza, 'Borborygmus Blues'. Music and lyrics are by Bob Murnane including such hits as 'Fancy Flatus'.

"Dr. Katz, better known as Zelique of the Waldorf, has achieved a gustatorial triumph. All New York is talking about his testicular seminoma and with pymphoid stroma and marshmallow syrup.

"Dr. Cloe Bowen will resume her obstetrical practice after recovering from her recent tonsillectomy.

"Ray Brown breaks the monotomy of his large Los Angeles medical practice by acting as stand-in for the aging Harpo Marx.

"Warren Kleinmaier has been appointed medical examiner for the Atlantic City beauty contests. Overcoming his reluctance, the officials drafted him for the position.

"Dr. Harrison Quincey Cope is in his fifth year as Dean of Harvard Medical School.

"Lieutenant Elliott, M.C. observed his silver jubilee in 'This Man's Army'. He loves that life.

"The nation's leading authority on male rejuvenation is Dr. Bates, publisher of Liberty Magazine.

"Dr. Ohliger has been missing for the past several weeks. The noted pharmacologist was last known to be working on a universal solvent.

"Commander James Simmons has led an expedition to Antarctica in search of medicinal oils. Dr. Simmons is so famous for his fearless work in this field that he is often called the 'Oily Byrd'.

"Senator Edward Wilson, Jr., M.D. has introduced a bill for more strict socialization of medicine in the Senate.

"Dr. Irwin Krakoff has been elected president of Physician's Local #5, C.I.O. in Columbus. May Zaugg is chairman of the all-important picket committee.

"Surgeon J. C. Lindsey's friends have nicknamed him 'Jack the Snipper'.

"Dr. Peppercorn sold his tan Pontiac (remember?) last week. He figured that any mileage over 25,000 would reduce its trade-in value.

"Lloyd Barnes is head of the Committee to Investigate Un-Medical Activities. Dr. Barnes thinks he has found some reds loose in the hematology department.

"Honest John Emery has added a shell game to his office equipment.

"Drs. Busby and Ralston were suspended at the last A.M.A. convention when they refused to smoke Camels.

"Bob Thomas was picked up by a truant officer again yesterday when he left his birth certificate at home.

"Dr. Craig is writing a paper on the variance in feeling among nurses in different localities.

"Drs. Detrick, Retterbush, and Smith, gynecologists par excellence, have developed a plastic digit for short or shy M.D.'s. It has been tried on several patients and they have been tickled with it. Its greatest value is in the bimanual diagnosis of bronchiectasis.

"Joe Klausner is enjoying unusual success at Mayo's where everybody is crazy for his action.

"Dick Miller is now known as the Milton Cross of Medicine. He is in great demand as a speaker.

And Now ---

"Fred Henry has been doing some personal research on the physiological properties of Seagram's Seven Crown. Aided by Dr. Cotterman he has worked out the miscibility ratio of this substance with Prestone.

"Bill Merryman has greatly improved the lot of interns and medical students by discovering a method for removing juniper berry stains from bathtubs.

"Drs. Mack and Lord have invented a right-angled needle for thick-skinned patients. When it bends it straightens out.

"That is the roll call. It's nice to see how the old cut-ups are doing. Maybe we'll have a reunion soon and see them lay the cornerstone of the proposed medical center."

IF THEY COULD TALK . . .
COUNCIL SEALS WOULD SAY:

"When you see one of us on a package of medicine or food, it means first of all that the manufacturer thought enough of the product to be willing to have it and his claims carefully examined by a board of critical, unbiased experts . . . We're glad to tell you that this product was examined, that the manufacturer was willing to listen to criticisms and suggestions the Council made, that he signified his willingness to restrict his advertising claims to proved ones, and that he will keep the Council informed of any intended changes in product or claims . . . There may be other similar products as good as this one, but when you see us on a package, you know. Why guess, or why take someone's self-interested word? If the product is everything the manufacturer claims, he should have no reason for hesitancy in submitting it to the Council."

CENSORED!

In Appreciation

"There are no quotations which adequately express the appreciation which we so deeply feel."

R. W. Gifford, Jr.

We are deeply indebted to many, many people without whose kind cooperation the 1947 CADUCEAN could never have been published. Both students and faculty members have taken time out of a busy day to pose for pictures. In some instances doctors have broken up their usual routine to come half way across the city to meet the CADUCEAN photographer. The long and tedious hours that various members of the staff have spent in preparing this book are countless. For all of this we are grateful, but in particular there are a few whom we feel deserve individual citation for their interest and cooperation:

Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Colburn and Mrs. Frame for their help on the myriad of intricate details that are bound to arise.

Dr. Brown for sharing his office with us.

Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, Architects who furnished the airplane perspective sketch of the new medical center exclusively for the CADUCEAN.

Earl Schofield and his group in the Medical Shop who let us use their shipping facilities.

Miss Helen Linn at Don Scott Feld who made arrangements for the CADUCEAN photographer to take the airplane view from which the sketch on the frontispiece was made.

Bill Trayte, Myron Dixon, Lew Ballinger and Ray W. Gifford of the Columbus Evening Dispatch who so willingly helped us with photography, art work and lay-outs.

Dr. Doan for his excellent message, "Serendipity" which appeared in this book and Mr. Blair for his cooperation on the "Things To Come" section.

Fred Shepard who made the posters for the circulation campaign.

Robert Koehler of Otterbein College for the make-up job he did on Bud Hosier in the theme portrait; and Arada Pickering for her help with micro-photography in preparing the case-history presented in this book.

Drs. Curtis, Zollinger and Evans who let us use their respective yearbooks from which we derived many ideas.

Miss Lois Wagenhals who took charge of the section on Senior Nurses.

Miss Mary Morris and Miss Doris Cunningham, our patient and expert typists.

The 1947 MAKIO staff who cooperated with us in every way.

Dr. Ruggy and Mr. Wayne Harsha, our faculty advisers who spent many long hours trying to make journalists of us.

The Pontiac Engraving Company, the F. J. Heer Printing Company, Parker's Photographic Studio, the E. R. Kissinger Company, and the S. K. Smith Company, maker of Malloy Covers.

And last but by no means least, our advertisers who, through their generosity, deserve your patronage.

WHEN:

Dr. Brown eats doughnuts and coffee for breakfast, and . . .

Dr. Palmer refutes psychosomatic medicine, and . .

Dr. Knouff stops lecturing when the bell rings, and . . .

Dr. Ruggy finds his Medical class yearbook, and . . .

Dr. Ralph reduces, and . . .

Dr. Milliser stops saying "sech" instead of "such," and . . .

Dr. Lenahan admits surgeons have a right to live, and . . .

Dr. Barnes forgets the mechanism of labor, and . . .

Dr. von Haam agrees with the clinicians, and . . . .

Dr. Hartman finds that the adrenal cortex is not essential to life, and . . .

Dr. Davidson wears the same suit two days in a row, and . . .

Dr. Hollenbeck stops prescribing thyroid, and . . .

Dr. Curtis finds that thoracotomy carries a higher mortality rate than myringotomy, and . . .

Dr. Wheeler stops drawing graphs, and . . .

Dr. Emswiler stops reading out of Dr. Beatty's book and has 100% attendance at his classes, and . . .

Dr. Wiseman never looks at another monocyte, and . . .

Dr. Wiley Forman finds a patient with no neurotic basis for his symptoms, and . . .

Dr. Barney never writes another prescription for ammoniated mercury, and . . .

Dr. Perry starts using yellow oxide of mercury, and . . .

Dr. Keating never tells another dirty story, and . . .

Dr. Doan keeps an appointment on time, and . . .

Dr. Kissane gives Dr. Ruggy quinidine for auricular fibrillation, and . . .

Dr. Praver accepts a positive serology as a diagnosis of syphilis, and . . .

The out-patient records at Children's Hospital get reorganized—

THEN:

A graduating class at the Ohio State University College of Medicine will put out a better yearbook than the 1947 CADUCEAN.
